It is necessary that the Societies should have sufficient time before the Conference meets to prepare themselves to take an active part in carrying on the discussions and to make the Conference a success. Some time is also necessary for the Societies to think out and suggest the subjects for discussion at the Conference. At the same time the Registrar should be in a position to know the number of delegates attending the Conference in order to make suitable housing and boarding arrangements.

1. Delegate for a Society with a membership up to	...	...	100
2. Delegates up to	...	...	300
3. Do above	...	...	300

3. The Society may pay to the delegates out of its funds, double third class fare for both the journeys and actual cart-hire incurred by them for reaching the railway station. A daily batta of eight annas per diem for a period of 5 days may also be paid.

4. Tiffin, photo and other miscellaneous expenses may be borne by the delegates themselves.

5. A Reception Committee will be formed at Mysore to see to the convenience of the delegates. Such of the delegates as require messing and housing arrangements will intimate their requirements to the Secretary of the Reception Committee one month before the date of the conference and send him in advance the money calculated at the rate of eight annas per day for each person for undertaking the necessary arrangements.

6. The following questions may be discussed at a general meeting of each Society, if possible, and the opinion of the general body ascertained and communicated to this office :—

(a) On what dates should the Conference meet during the Dasara?

(b) What subjects would your Society suggest for discussion at the Conference?
A brief note on each of the subjects proposed should accompany the suggestion.

(c) Who are the delegates selected by your Society?

(d) Does the general meeting approve of the expenditure suggested for the delegates and set apart the requisite sum?
